OUR TEAM

K.G. Subramanyam

KVS President

K.G. Subramanyam, a resilient leader from a Dalit background, has overcome many challenges in life. Affected by polio at the age of three, he grew up facing barriers to education, accessibility, and social inclusion. Despite these hardships, he has dedicated the last 15 years to working in the field of disability rights and accessibility, particularly in Chikkaballapur district.

Currently serving as a Gram Panchayat Member, Subramanyam actively supports initiatives that improve accessibility, education, and livelihood opportunities for marginalized communities. His leadership and commitment have made him a strong voice for persons with disabilities and their families, many of whom continue to face social and economic difficulties.

As a member of KVS, Subramanyam contributes to collective efforts that strengthen community support systems, promote inclusive development, and ensure that the concerns of persons with disabilities are recognized at local governance levels. His journey stands as an inspiration of determination, service, and hope.

OUR TEAM

Dr. Kiran Nayak B

KVS General Secretary

I am Dr. Kiran Nayak a 38-year-old Banjara tribal trans man from Warangal, Telangana, living with 75% polio disability and a wheelchair user since the age of three. I come from a Below Poverty Line (BPL) Dalit–Adivasi Banjara background, and my life journey has been defined by resilience in the face of deep structural exclusions based on caste, disability, gender identity, and poverty.

I grew up in Hanuman Thanda, a small village in Telangana, immersed in the rich Banjara culture. At 12, I began identifying as male, despite being assigned female at birth. At 18, I migrated to Chikkaballapur, Karnataka, where I faced further struggles related to my gender identity, disability, and societal stigma. Today, I continue to live and work in Karnataka, building a life of dignity while working for the rights of marginalized communities.

Community Work & Advocacy

Despite severe barriers, I have dedicated my life to grassroots activism, focusing on disability rights, transgender rights, sanitation, and access to basic needs like safe drinking water. The COVID-19 pandemic deepened vulnerabilities for disabled and transgender communities, but I worked tirelessly to mobilize and distribute relief aid to those most disenfranchised.

OUR TEAM

I continue to advocate for:

- Disability rights & accessibility – especially for wheelchair users.
- Trans men's recognition and rights in India.
- Basic infrastructure needs such as sanitation and safe drinking water in marginalized regions.

Awards & Recognition
